A Detroit Girl Believed to Have Been Killed

BY TWO UNKNOWN FIENDS

Who Assaulted Her and Then Threw Her Injured Budy Into the River and Fled-State Briefs.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 29 .- Rose Barowitch, a pretty ill-year-old girl, left home last Friday evening dressed only in a light calico gown and with no hat. Since then her parents have seen nothing of her, and the vigorous search of the police has failed to reveal her whereabouts. A young friend of the girl tells a strange story that adds much to the mystery surrounding the affair. She says that on the night Rosa left home she saw the missing girl enter a house near by with two young men. Later the same night the three were seen to take a carriage and drive toward the river. In a search of the house, which had been rented and partly furnished by two young men for two weeks, were found arreds of the girl's dress. On the floor were also found several clots of blood. The young men have not returned to their quarters since last Friday and a search of the city fails to reveal their presence here. It is be-lieved that they decoyed the girl into meir quarters, faixly injured her in an attempt at assault and then threw her body through the ice into the river. The police are bending every energy to unravel the mystery, but have met with small success thus far.

Contributions Wanted for an Educational Display.

Lassing, Mich., Jan. 29 .- The superintendent of public instruction has saued an address to the teachers of the state, designating February 22 as the date on which contributions are to be received from school children to help the state of Michigan out in defraying the expense of an educational exhibit at the world's fair. The resort to voluntary contributions has proved very successful in Indiana and a gradnated scale of donations is suggested, under which pupils are asked to contribnte at least one cent each, teachers 10 cents each, principals 25 cents, superinschools 50 cents and the parents of children such amounts as they may deem fit. It is further sugnested that special school exercises be arranged for February 22, with a program devoted to subjects bearing on world's fairs. The address is simply a world's lains.

Little 7-Year-Old Girl Killed by a

PLYMOUTH, Jan. 29.—An autopsy on the remains of little 7-year-old Blanche Courtrite, whose death was caused after a painful illness of four months, showed a hard, modulated fibro-cystic tumor, weighing 12 pounds, firmly adherent to the back and surrounding tissue. The spleen was partially absorbed and there was a great enlargement of the left lobe of the liver. The cause of death, unusual in one so young, is thought to render the case of general interest to the medical profession, She fell last September striking on the edge of a sidewalk, and four weeks later the tumor made its appearance. Its subsequent growth was rapid in spite of all the effort a of the physicians.

Good For One Leg.

BRONSON, Jan. 29 .- As a rule onelegged soldiers are not considered as having the best equipment for getting to the front in the financial struggle of life: but E. R. Philo, of Mattison, is a good exception to the rule. He runs a 200 acre farm, doing a good share of the work himself. Last year he raised over 3000 bushels of wheat and last fall numself and wife alone put in forty-five acres. He takes two daily papers and keeps posted on prices. and has for years kept a daily record of the weather. He keeps several pets around him, one being an eighty-pound shoat, as he calls him.

A Village on the Ice.

Bay Crry, Jan. 29 .- The fishing firms have already completed preparations for the season's catch through the ice, and in a few days the large and populone village annually built out on the frozen surface of Saginaw bay will be a scene of winter activity. The catch at present is light, as the yearly run of fish is not expected for a month yet, but several hundred barrels of frozen fish are being shipped every week.

Immersed in Elk Lake.

ELE Rapins, Jan. 29 .- Cashier Schuler. an old resident of this section, while crossing Elk lake last night with his wife, broke through the ice. After mmersion for some time in the lake's freezing waters, they succeeded in get-ting out, but before reaching land Mr. Schuler died from expose. Mrs. Schuler is not expected to recover.
